

Even cleaner seas for the South West

South West Water has spent more than £2 billion to transform bathing water quality across the region over the past 20 years.

In 2014/15 we spent an additional £20 million on a range of schemes to further improve bathing water quality at:

- Lyme Regis
- Church Cliff
- Teignmouth Town
- Torre Abbey
- Preston Sands
- Paignton Sands
- Mothecombe
- Seaton (Cornwall)
- East Looe
- Combe Martin

In numbers:

Seven resorts
Nine bathing waters
12 towns and villages
13 engineering schemes
13 storm storage tanks
7,328 cubic metres of additional storm storage
Cost: £20 million
